5. Action Items

5.1. BIRT The Dalhousie-King's Fashion Design Show Society receive $1000 in non-contingent funding to put on the Vaudeville charity fashion show on March 4th, 2018.
Moved by Zoë Brimacombe
Finance Committee recommends approval

Zoë Brimacombe said that council tabled this motion last meeting in order to allow time to meet with this society. The Dalhousie-King's Fashion Design Show Society organizes a show each month. It is charity organization, with models and prop designers created by students. The society aims challenge stigma surrounding modeling. The financial committee was concerned about this being a charity organizations and the low amount of kings students represented at this event in the past. More outreach work has been done to Kings Students in order to engage them in this event. The ticket to this show costs $10 to attend.

Brennan McCracken added that this committee has done a great job of asking the Dalhousie-King's Fashion Design Show Society the reasoning behind their proposal. He is impressed with the follow-up of this society's proposal.

Motion was passed.

- 5.2. BIRT The King's Jewish Book Club receive $13.50 in contingent funding to purchase snacks for a meeting on Jewish Folk Tales on November 1st, 2017.

Moved by Zoë Brimacombe

Finance Committee recommends approval

Zoë Brimacombe reported that The King's Jewish Book Club want to talk about Jewish folk tales, and discuss literature with the King's community. They are going to use this funding to buy chips, and snacks!

Motion was passed.

- 5.3. BIRT The King's Journalism Society receive $73.60 in retroactive funding to purchase pizza for their first meeting of the year on October 11th, 2017.

Moved by Zoe Brimacombe

Finance Committee recommends approval

Zoë Brimacombe said that these next two motions mention retroactive funding because there was some misunderstanding with the societies in regards to how the funding process worked. Zoë assisted them for future funding requests. It's unusual for the KSU to do retroactive funding, but given the circumstance that a student paid $345 from their own pocket in action item 5.4, they should be compensated. The reason being Zoë believes that if council were to table this motion now, the student would go three weeks without $345 owing to a misunderstanding.

Zoë Brimacombe met with the treasurer of The King's Journalism Society. The society leaders signed a Society Funding Process and Retroactive Funding Form to solidify that they understand what retroactive funding is, as well as how funding guidelines work within the KSU. The Financial Committee thinks they should be supportive towards the student body and be forgiving towards a one-time mistake.

Kaila Jeffers-Moore asked if this affects future funding for The King's Journalism Society. Zoë Brimacombe responded that the society could still apply for funding and that the society acknowledges that this is not regular procedure.

Motion was passed.

- 5.4. BIRT The King's Dance Collective receive $345 in retroactive funding to pay for a Studio in Essence Pole Dance Workshop on October 21st, 2017.

Moved by Zoe Brimacombe

Finance Committee recommends approval

Zoë Brimacombe said that she received this request shortly after action item 5.3. The treasurer of The King's Dance Collective did not get back to Zoë until this Friday. She hopes to go through the same process as The King's Journalism Society. Zoë suggested that council can table this motion so that she can meet with the The King's Dance Collective treasurer.

Chris Pearse asked if the dance teacher had already have been paid for their job. Zoë guessed that they have already been paid.

Brennan McCracken suggested that we vote on this motion now because of Zoë's concern regarding if council were to table this motion now, the student would go three weeks without $345 owing to a misunderstanding.

Zoë Brimacombe moved to amend that action item 5.4 be read, "BIRT The King's Dance Collective receive $345 in retroactive funding to pay for a Studio in Essence Pole Dance Workshop on October 21st, 2017, contingent on meeting with the Financial Vice-President and signing the Society Funding Process and Retroactive Funding Form"
Brennan McCracken seconded this amendment.

Zoë Brimacombe explained that this motion means that The King's Dance Collective will receive retroactive funding only after they meet with Zoë, and sign the Society Funding Process and Retroactive Funding Form.

Amendment was passed.
Motion was passed.

5.5. BIRT the King's Students' Union condemn Dalhousie University's racist and Islamophobic actions towards Masuma Khan; and

BIFRT the King's Students' Union write a letter to Dalhousie University President, Richard Florizone, to condemn the University's actions, call on Dalhousie to apologize to Masuma Khan, and act on students' demands to support racialized and Indigenous students on campus; and

BIFRT the King's Students' Union write a letter to University of King's College President, Bill Lahey, to call on the University of King's College to condemn Dalhousie's actions, publicly support students' demands, and act on students' demands to support racialized and Indigenous students on the King's Campus.

Lianne Xiao explained that Masuma Khan is a Vice-President with the Dalhousie Student Union and that in the spring, she lead and passed a motion to amend that Dalhousie would not celebrate Canada 150 as it promotes colonialism and discrimination towards First Nations people. Masuma posted on Facebook the hashtag 'white fragility can kiss my ass', and someone reported the post to Dalhousie as a racist comment which resulted in Masuma was put up for senate hearing. Lianne thinks this action item to be an appropriate response from our university.

Brennan McCracken asked if the councillors understood the context of this motion. Brennan believes that Dalhousie's resentment of their complaint was the right thing to do. Brennan hopes that with passing of this motion, future students will not be targeted in the same way Masuma has been.

Arianna Narbonne asked if Bill Lahey was legally allowed to do what this motion requests. Brennan responded that Kings is an independent organisation, separate from Dalhousie, and that Bill Lahey has the authority to call on the University of King's College to condemn Dalhousie's actions, publicly support students' demands, and act on students' demands to support racialized and Indigenous students on the King's Campus.

Kaila Jeffers-Moore asked if councillors could read this letter before it was sent. Lianne Xiao said that she will circulate the letter to councillors before it is publicised

Motion was passed.

- 5.6. BIRT the King's Students' Union condemn the Dalhousie University's Board of Governors and Board Chair Lawrence Stordy silencing and colonial actions against student Board of Governors Representative Kati George-Jim on June 27, 2017; and

BIFRT the King's Students' Union write a letter to Board Chair, Lawrence Stordy, to condemn the Board's actions call on Dalhousie to apologize to Kati George-Jim, and act on students' demands to support racialized and Indigenous students on campus; and

BIFRT the King's Students' Union write a letter to University of King's College President, Bill Lahey, calling on the University of King's College to condemn Dalhousie's actions, publicly support students' demands, and act on students' demands to support racialized and Indigenous students on the King's Campus.

Lianne Xiao said that for context, at the Dalhousie Board of Governors meeting Kati George-Jim was silenced by the chair. Lianne explained that Chair Lawrence Stordy was demeaning and expressed racist overtones.

Brennan McCracken added that Kati George-Jim submitted and read a formal letter highlighting her experience and concerns of racism at the following Dalhousie Board of Governors Meeting and combated the actions that were taken against her.

Chris Pearse asked if any action has been taken on the administrative side.

Kaila Jeffers-Moore responded that the Dalhousie Board of Governors are planning to put together a committee to look at the Dalhousie Disciplinary Actions.

Kaila Jeffers-Moore asked if the letter to Board Chair, Lawrence Stordy could be circulated along with the letter Kati wrote.

Lianne Xiao responded yes.

Zoë Brimacombe added that she hopes to see an actual apology from Dalhousie University and added that Kati is brave for being on this Board.

Motion was passed.

Lianne called for recess at 11:03 a.m.

Council moved out of recess at 11:10 a.m.

Moved by Brennan McCracken

Brennan McCracken said that this and the following motions were mentioned at the last meeting. Last year the KSU created similar positions. Marie Dolcetti Koros will be overseeing these committees. This committee will be project-based to find a Mental Health Hired person for them to create a set of materials to make academia more

*The blanks were filled with above names with Dorsa Eslami, Lianne Xiao, and Alexandra Sweny.
Motion was passed.*

- 5.9. BIRT _____ be elected to the Board of Appeal and Discipline for the 2017-2018 and 2018-2019 academic years.

Heather Velthius self-nominated: Heather is a first year student and lives on resident. She likes to keep guidelines and institutions in line, she is eager to be a part of this board.

Brennan McCracken nominated Brianna Dunn: Brianna is interested in this opportunity and being a part of this board. She is the student manager of the Galley, Brianna is very involved on campus, she is interested in representing students and upholding regulations.

Peter O'Brien reported that this committee does not often meet, but it is good to have a student on the committee. The elected student cannot be a journalism student.

Brennan McCracken nominated Caleb Sher: Caleb is looking to get more involved with the KSU. Caleb was involved in hiring processes in the past.

The blank was filled with Caleb Sher.

Motion was passed.

- 5.11. BIRT and _____ be elected to the University Equity Committee for the 2017-2018 academic year.

1. Internal – Union Affairs

1.1. Councillor Training

- Councillor training sessions were held on Friday, October 13, and Saturday, October 21
- At the first session, President Brennan McCracken and I presented an overview of the KSU and an introduction to our councillors, staff people, and union hired positions. We also had an anti-oppression workshop led by Rebecca Stuckey (South House Volunteer and Outreach Coordinator).
- KSU Chair Charlotte Sullivan also led an introduction to Robert's Rules of Order and council procedure at the beginning of our council meeting on October 15. I added presented about why we use Robert's Rules and the importance of thinking with an anti-colonial lens.

1.2. Retroactive Funding

- In this reporting period, two society funding requests were submitted that fell under the definition of "retroactive funding."
- The KSU has regulations against approving retroactive funding, which is funding to cover money that has already been spent, or for events that have already happened. Council must approve funding for an event before it happens in order for it to be reimbursed. This rule exists in order to ensure that the societies levy, which all students pay into, is distributed through a fair and accountable system.
- The fact that two requests have been submitted that do not abide by these guidelines points to a need to make these rules clearer.
- I have updated the Society Funding and Printing Request Form to include the following text: "Funding must be approved at a council meeting prior to your event. A full list of council dates can be found in your ratification package." The updated form also requires the society executive to indicate that they understand this regulation and that their event takes place after the next council date.
